Using the sun's raw energy, you power your home and sell electricity to utility companies. Unfortunately, some states make this harder to achieve with restrictions on solar energy and its financing. State solar regulations generally fall into three key categories: installation requirements, financial incentives, and utility connection policies. Not everyone is on board with solar panels, though. Arizona. Solar, or photovoltaic (PV) panels as they're referred to in NFPA 1, Fire Code, are becoming more and more common on one- and two-family dwelling and townhouse roofs. Since the 2016 edition of NFPA 1, access pathways have been required on roofs to facilitate fire service access as well as egress.
